

The first fashion photo shoot for Lidia Levina's clothes made of tights took place on Sunday, September 19. The collection was inspired by the idea of environmental awareness, recycling and reusing. The collection used altogether 243 pairs of tights and took 6 working days to be completed.

Thanks to all who became interested in my idea, took part in the project and helped to carry it out. Special thanks to Anya Andreeva who I could have hardly done without. Onion courtesy of Masha Zusmanovich. The project will run on.
